for any environment

SnackTime

SnackTime is the leading snack vending operator in Britain.

SnackTime

SnackTime is the leading national snack and drink vending operator. Whatever the organisation, large or small, private or public sector, SnackTime have a machine to suit the environment. We supply machines to many Blue Chip companies which include retailers, hotel and leisure companies, call centres, distribution centres as well as hospitals, and police and ambulance stations.

SnackTime installs, maintains and refills all its machines with top brands – nationwide – using our own trained and dedicated network of local merchandisers. We do not subcontract or franchise.

*Customer satisfaction is paramount...
SnackTime vending machines only stock
the top brands of confectionery, snacks and drinks, including limited edition ranges - at high street prices.*

Stocking Britain's Top Brands

Top Brands - Customer satisfaction is paramount to SnackTime and therefore we only vend top brands in our machines. This includes Mars confectionery, Walkers crisps and Pepsi, Britvic and Coca Cola drinks.* All our merchandisers are trained to ensure that every machine has a product range that is tailored to suit each customer site's individual requirements.

Customer Satisfaction - At SnackTime, we recognise that an on-site vending machine can play an important part in staff morale, providing immediate on-site refreshments. A reliable vending machine reduces the need for staff to leave the premises, ensures shift staff have refreshments at any time day or night, and provides immediate snacks and drinks for staff with only short rest breaks. We also have a 24 hr customer-service local-rate line should assistance be needed.

*Brands may vary depending on geographic region.

SnackTime operates a wide variety of machines to ensure that the needs of the most challenging customer environment can be met. SnackTime machines have been built to operate in offices, rest areas, kitchens, warehouses, waiting rooms and corridors.

Customer Focussed

A machine that is right for each customer

We recognise that our customers come in all shapes and sizes and that every customer has their own unique environment and needs. We operate the largest variety of snack and drink vending machines, ensuring that we can offer the right one for the environment in question. Whether it be an office, warehouse, rest area, kitchen, staff room, waiting room or corridor, we have a vending machine that is the ideal size. Our machines also offer a variety of product selection options – we offer machines with different combinations of confectionery, crisps and chilled drinks. Our dedicated sales team will help our customers decide on the appropriate style and size of machine for their needs to deliver a high level of customer service and satisfaction.

SnackTime vending machines offer the most up-to-date vending technology. Features include product delivery sensors, hi-tech drink chillers and the latest product selection touch-pads.

Latest Technology

All SnackTime machines are attractively designed and simple to use. All machines feature the latest technology in selection keypads, coin handling systems and some of our machines also feature a product delivery sensor to eliminate dispensing errors. All our machines with a drinks option provide chilled product. Most of our machines simply require a mains socket, but our Slimline machine has been uniquely designed to fit in any tight space without the need for mains power – it can be battery powered.

All machines are installed by professional, fully-trained SnackTime Installation Engineers using the correct manual handling equipment and tools.

SnackTime has a network of hundreds of dedicated local merchandisers to ensure a rapid and personal service wherever our customers are located.

National Coverage with Local Service

SnackTime operates customer sites throughout the UK and Eire, with major regional depots and smaller satellite depots. This ensures a comprehensive supply of stock and parts which is easily and rapidly accessible by all our staff.

SnackTime has a network of hundreds of local merchandisers who are responsible for ensuring that their customer machines are regularly re-stocked and maintained. Every customer has their own dedicated, locally-based merchandiser ensuring a rapid, personal service. All our merchandisers are trained to ensure that the product range in each machine is tailored to suit the company's tastes. They are also trained to make minor repairs reducing unnecessary downtime. We also have a 24 hour, local-rate customer service line.
